ANTI-BULLYING AMBASSADORS NEEDED! (MYP)

Our school is looking to update our anti-bullying approach:

- How we can raise awareness of this very important issue
- Steps we can take to make sure everyone feels safe in school
- Knowing what to do and where to go if bullying is taking place

As part of this, we are looking to recruit a team of students to become Anti-Bullying Ambassadors.

Collectively, our team of Ambassador's main aim will be to raise awareness and to prevent and tackle bullying here at Highcliffe School. The activities Ambassadors become involved in will include:

- Helping spread the message of anti-bullying across the school
- Identifying issues relating to bullying before they escalate
- Offering support and guidance to students who are being bullied
- 'Being there' for people who need them
- Providing a range of facilities and activities to help prevent bullying
- Keeping up to date with training opportunities
- Helping to run events in partnership with other organisations
- Meeting with the other ambassadors regularly to discuss progress and issues that have arisen
- Working with staff, as well as students, to prevent bullying

We would like Ambassadors to come from all year groups and will go through training to equip them with the fundamental skills and knowledge needed to deal with all types of bullying within a school environment.

To start with, we are looking for 12 students to attend training with over 100 students from local schools at the end of this term. We will then add to our number of ambassadors in September, at the part of the new school year.

If you would like to find out more about the role of the Anti-Bullying Ambassadors, you can watch this video:

Or read the information that can be found here: <https://www.antibullyingpro.com/>

If you are interested in becoming an Anti-Bullying Ambassador, please complete the application form attached to the bulletin and hand it in to the Student Support Office by Friday 29th June.

The Best Words. In the Best Place.

This week's "Word of the Week" is ...

Complacent

What does "complacent" mean? Does it mean ...?

- 1/ To be constantly annoyed.
- 2/ To be too satisfied with your achievements or situation.
- 3/ To be guilty of helping out with a crime

What is the noun?

Complacency

Answer:

"Complacent" means ...

2/ To be too satisfied with your achievements or situation.

Examples:

A: I got all level 7s in my mocks, so I think I'll be fine for the real thing.

B: I think you're being complacent.

Critical Thinking – apply

In what situations might someone become complacent?

How can you address complacency?

How would you advise someone who is complacent?

Commendation Opportunities:

You might understand the meaning of this word now, but can you use it?

Try and use this word in class in writing or in speech. You might get commended for an effective use of it!

Break-through commendation: If you use it incorrectly first time, but try again, you might receive a break-through commendation!

ANTI-BULLYING AMBASSADOR APPLICATION FORM

Our school is excited to announce that we have signed up to the Diana Award Anti-Bullying Ambassador training day. We are going to select a number of students to attend the training day and become Anti-Bullying Ambassadors in the school. At the training day you will work with students from schools in the local area and play games, do drama and work in groups to look at what bullying is, why it happens and how we can stop it from happening in our school. After the training day you will then become one of the 15,000 Anti-Bullying Ambassadors in the UK and will work in our school to tackle bullying and support other students.

If this sounds like something you're interested in check out the website: www.antibullyingpro.com and tell us why you would make a great Anti-Bullying Ambassador by answering the questions below...
